Asia Matters for America
(2022 - 4th edition)

Asia Matters for America

The Asia Matters for America initiative maps the trade, investment, employment, business, diplomacy, security, and people-to-people connections between the United States and the Indo-Pacific at the national, state, and local levels. The publications, one-page connection summaries for states and congressional districts, and the AsiaMattersforAmerica.org website are resources for understanding the robust and dynamic US—Indo-Pacific relationship.

Young Professionals Program

The Young Professionals Program offers students and recent graduates the opportunity to gain first-hand training experience working at a US—Indo-Pacific research and education organization in Washington, DC. Participants create content, collaborate on research, and assist at events.

Asia Pacific Bulletin

The Asia Pacific Bulletin (APB) is a publication series focused on policy-relevant Indo-Pacific developments and US—Indo-Pacific relations. APBs are designed to provide insights, information, and perspective for the busy professional or policymaker. Special Series focusing on a particular theme or topic with multiple authors include:

- New Opportunities for the United States Kingdom of Thailand Alliance in the Indo-Pacific
- Middle Powers Navigate US-China Competition in the Indo-Pacific
- Regional Connectivity in the Bay of Bengal

Seminars, Conferences, and Dialogues

The Indo-Pacific Seminar Series brings scholars and policymakers from the Indo-Pacific and United States together to present their research and findings to a global audience. The East-West Center in Washington hosts seminars, conferences, and dialogues with partners to advance US—Indo-Pacific relations on Capitol Hill and across the United States.

Fellowships

The East-West Center in Washington hosts a number of visiting fellows and scholars each year. Current fellowships include:

The Asia Studies Visiting Fellowship brings multidisciplinary professionals from the Indo-Pacific and the United States to Washington, DC for three months to undertake research on topics of relevance to US—Indo-Pacific policy.

The US-Philippines Alliance Fellowship, held in partnership with the US Embassy in the Philippines, hosts Filipino scholars in Washington, DC for three months to conduct analysis on national security, international relations, and international trade in the Indo-Pacific.

North Korea in the World

North Korea in the World, a joint collaboration between EWCW and the National Committee on North Korea, is an interactive online resource and webinar series that provides easily-accessible information on the diplomatic, economic, multilateral, and humanitarian policies of North Korea as well as China–DPRK and Inter-Korean relations.

Congressional Staff Programs

EWC congressional staff programs are bipartisan educational certificate programs that aim to equip congressional staffers with greater knowledge of US–Indo-Pacific policy in order to better understand America’s role in and engagement with this dynamic region and the policy implications that will directly engage Congress.

The Congressional Program on US–Japan Relations and the Indo-Pacific (CPUSJ) is administered by the East-West Center in Washington with support from Sasakawa Peace Foundation USA. The Congressional Staff Program on the Pacific (CSPP) builds on the launch of The Pacific Islands Matter for America, which was supported by the US Department of the Interior and the Congressional Pacific Islands Caucus.

The East-West Center promotes better relations and understanding among the people and nations of the United States, Asia, and the Pacific through cooperative study research and dialogue. Established by the US Congress in 1960, the Center serves as a resource for information and analysis on critical issues of common concern, bringing people together to exchange views, build expertise, and develop policy options. The East-West Center in Washington, a program of the East-West Center, advances US–Indo-Pacific relations by creating innovative content, publications, exchanges, and outreach activities.
